INVESTIGATOR REPROVED BY COMMISSION

Members of Vancouver Police Board Talk Plainly To W. A. Tucker

"TRYING TO DELVE INTO PRIVATE LIVES"

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (P).—W. A. Tucker, special investigator, came under fire from Magistrate H. S. Wood and Judge J. N. Ellis at a special session of the police commission today at which they intimated that, if he was unable or unwilling to carry out his duties, he would be dealt with by the commission and not by the City Council.

"He is trying to make an ass of the police commission—and nearly did it, too," Magistrate Wood said.

"THE FIDDLERS AROUND"

"We ask a man how to improve the accounting system and he fiddles around for six or eight months and then asks the chief of police for access to these secret files," the magistrate said, referring to secret police files which Police Chief W. W. Foster refused to allow Tucker to see.

"He still doesn't understand we want a report on filing and accounting systems at the police station."

Turning to Tucker, he said: "You want to delve into the contents of the files. That is not what we want. We want the system investigated. When we decide otherwise we will tell you. You are trying to delve into the private lives of members of the police force."

Defenders Dig In Within Ten Miles Of Spain's Capital

Retreating Government Forces Making Another Stand as Fascists Rumble on Through Captured Town With Heavy Artillery—New Supreme Commander Is Installed Within Madrid

(By the Associated Press)

A FASCIST column which Wednesday conquered Navalcarnero, one of Madrid's key defenses, pressed on last night to the next Government line within sight of the capital.

Retreating before the precise advance of the mechanized columns, the Government defenders dug in at Mostoles, only ten miles from the capital, as the Fascists' modern heavy artillery rumbled through Navalcarnero.

At Torrejon de la Calzada, sixteen miles south of Madrid, Government militiamen made another stand.

GOVERNMENT ATTACKING

In the northeast, at Huesca, the Government was in the attacking position. Foot soldiers got inside the range of the artillery and peppered the outskirts of the city, while Madrid's artillery poured shells over their heads into the Fascists holding Huesca.

An almost isolated band of Government fighters stood off a Fascist assault at Navia del Marqués, about thirty-five miles west of the capital, but civilians evacuated the town.

The insurgents appeared to be making their strongest bid to reach the capital from the southwest and Continued on Page 3, Column 7

FRANCO-GERMAN TREATY SOUGHT

Italy to Back Germany in Demand for Peace Pact With France

PARIS, Oct. 22 (P).—High diplomatic sources tonight said Italy had promised to back up Germany in a demand for a Franco-German pact.

These sources reported Italian Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano, now in Berlin, and German Foreign Minister Konstantin von Neurath had agreed such a pact was necessary to keep the peace of Europe.

The two foreign ministers were expected to have further agreed this bilateral pact should be guaranteed by Italy and Great Britain.

SIMILAR TO LOCARNO

In this form, the pact would be similar to the old Locarno agreement for maintenance of peace in Western Europe, except that Belgium would be left out, informed persons pointed out.

King Leopold's recent declaration of Belgium's new policy of "neutrality" and avoidance of foreign entanglements would be the basis for her non-inclusion in the agreement, it was said.

Copper Shortage Hinders Business

WINDSOR, N.S., Oct. 22 (P).—The low copper came into its own as a day. Temporary lack of them found shopkeeper after shopkeeper calling at the banks. The manager of one chain store offered to pay for a long-distance telephone call to Kentville if bank manager would order a shipment by train.

FOUR INJURED IN SKIRMISH WITH INDIANS

Mounted and Provincial Police Quell Disturbance On Ontario Reservation

FIGHT STARTS WITH ATTEMPT TO ARREST

MUNCEY, Ont., Oct. 22 (P).—A detachment of twelve Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Provincial Police officers, rushed from St. Thomas and London, tonight succeeded in quelling a disturbance staged by 200 Indians, after they had attacked and injured two R.C.M.P. constables and two civilians.

The village of Muncey is situated on the Muncey Indian Reserve, twenty-three miles west of London.

APPEARED INTOXICATED

The disorders occurred when R.C.M.P. Officer H. F. Paquet, stationed on the reserve, attempted to arrest a drunken Indian during the progress of the Oneida Fair. About the same time, Constable Paquet's fellow-officer, Constable J. M. Bella, endeavored to make another arrest.

It was then said police officers were to be intoxicated, turned upon the officers.

TWO CIVILIANS MAILED

The two civilians, Francis Pickering and Richard Collins, went to the aid of the constables, and were maimed. Later, the four whites were able to fight their way to police headquarters and call for assistance.

Constable Paquet was bruised and battered; Constable Bella suffered a broken rib. Collins' nose was broken, while Pickering had superficial hurts.

AWARDS DAMAGES AGAINST OFFICER

Vancouver, Truck Driver to Receive $1,162 by Order of Court—Was Shot by Policeman

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (P).—Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in Supreme Court today awarded William Freymak, twenty-seven-year-old truck driver, $1,162 damages against Police Constable Charles Campbell. Freymak was shot by the officer on March 21 last, as he and a companion were driving in his brother's truck.

Campbell testified that the truck had been reported stolen by Freymak's brother, and that he had shot at the gasoline tank of the machine.

The court denied Campbell had been justified in shooting. The damages would be paid by the city.

Lord Hanworth Passes in London

LONDON, Oct. 22 (P).—Lord Hanworth, seventy-four, master of the rolls, died today.

Ernest Murray Pollock, first Baron Hanworth, was raised to the peerage in 1926. In 1919 he became solicitor-general and for a few months in 1922 was attorney-general. He was appointed master of the rolls in 1923.

Political Interest in Air Ministry Blamed By Car Manufacturer

Lord Nuffield Explains Withdrawal of His Company From British Government's Project for Speeding Construction of Airplane Engines

LONDON, Oct. 22 (P).—Criticism of political interest in the Air Ministry was made tonight by Lord Nuffield, head of a number of motor car manufacturing companies, in a statement explaining withdrawal of Wolseley Motors, Ltd., from a Government project for speeding construction of airplane engines.

Lord Nuffield began by emphasizing there had been no quarrel between himself and the Air Ministry. The whole matter was simply a difference of opinion on principles of production.

GOVERNMENT'S PLAN

The "shadow" plan announced by the Government this week called for building six Government-owned factories to produce airplane engines for the Royal Air Force.

The whole matter was simply a difference of opinion on principles of production.

Lord Nuffield, chairman of Morris Motors, Ltd., said in 1929 he made the statement in conversation that the Air Ministry was paying prices for persons racing into the streets, but apparently caused slight damage.

Charge That Judge Burned Court and Janitress With It

SARANSK, Russia, Oct. 22 (P).—Judge A. Demidoff was arrested tonight and charged with burning down the courthouse to destroy damaging records. The janitress, burned to death in the fire, the investigators charged, "knew too much" about the judge and his doings. It was alleged the judge had handed out light sentences to those who could and did pay for such consideration.

TRADE PACT CONCLUDED

Canada and Germany Sign Treaty—Goes Into Effect November 15

OTTAWA, Oct. 22 (P).—Canada's first trade treaty with Germany was signed today by representatives of the two countries, Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of Trade and Commerce for Canada, and Dr. Hans R. Himmelfarb for Germany.

Along with the trade treaty goes a "payments agreement" covering monetary transactions between the two countries and the liquidation of outstanding accounts, which have been "frozen" by German restrictions on the export of currency.

The agreements come into effect on November 15 and the last terms will not be known until Monday, when a simultaneous release of the agreements will be made in Canada and Germany.

AUSTRALIA NEXT

Mr. Euler, who has been called Canada's chief traveling salesman, started negotiations with Germany during his European tour this summer, and in a few weeks will be off on another trade mission to Australia and New Zealand.

The German agreement is the first result of Mr. Euler's travels. He arranged a removal of embargoes on trade between Canada and Russia earlier, but made no agreement with that country.

While Canada has never had a trade agreement with Germany during the past few years a temporary arrangement effected by exchange of notes has been in operation. Under this Canada extended to Germany the benefits of the intermediate tariff, and Germany extended most-favored nation treatment to goods imported from Canada.

Salvage Ship Founders in Heavy Seas

TOKIO, Oct. 22 (P).—Thirty-five persons were reported drowned today off Rumoi, Hokkaido Island, when the salvage boat Oura Maru foundered in a storm. The vessel Aikoku Maru, which the salvage ship was towing to Kobe, also was missing.

The Japanese freighter Maruyama Maru, fully loaded 11,000-ton vessel, crashed on rocks while battling high seas near Oura, Hokkaido Island. Rescue boats put out in an attempt to save the crew of forty-five, but were unable to reach the ship immediately.

DEER-HUNTING TOLL REACHES THIRTY-SIX

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 22 (P).—Western America's deer hunting season approached its peak tonight with thirty-six hunters known dead and at least four missing.

Only half the hunters killed were the victims of other men's guns. Ten accidentally shot themselves. Four were drowned—and four found the going too tough, the excitement too great, they fell dead.

Little Volcanoes Cause Big Panic

AORIGENTO, Sicily, Oct. 22 (P).—Fifty "volcanetti" or tiny volcanoes, erupted in a once-volcanic area near here today. The midges volcanoes came to life after a tremendous roar which threw the countryside into a panic.

The eruptions caused no damage since the area is barren and uncultivated.

EARTHQUAKE IN ALASKA

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Oct. 22 (P).—A sharp earthquake shook buildings in Anchorage tonight and sent persons racing into the streets, but apparently caused slight damage.

May Place Order For Planes With Firms in Canada

Great Britain Reported to Be Planning to Purchase Three Hundred War Machines Either in the United States or From Branches of American Companies in the Dominion

LONDON, Oct. 22 (P).—The Air Ministry declined to make any statement today regarding reports planes would be purchased for the Royal Air Force in the United States and Canada.

LONDON, Oct. 22 (P).—Great Britain, a reliable source said tonight, plans to purchase United States aircraft for the Royal Air Force because domestic production has been unable to keep up with the country's rearmament programme.

(Havas reported there were rumors in London the Air Ministry had placed orders for 300 planes with Canadian branches of United States firms. The planes would be shipped directly to England from the Dominion, it was said.)

One unconfirmed report said 300 planes already had been ordered in the United States.

ON SECRET LIST

Although the British Government is understood to look with favor on the latest American naval and military planes, it was asserted in aviation circles there was little likelihood Britain would be able to purchase the same types, since they are on the United States' secret list.

The Air Ministry has not yet decided if it was reliably reported whether to ask American manufacturers to build the planes.

FORD'S FORMER PARTNER DEAD

Senator James Couzens Succumbs After Operation in Detroit Hospital

DETROIT, Oct. 22 (P).—James Couzens, sixty-four, Canadian-born United States Senator, who, as an office clerk, aided Henry Ford at the turn of the century in founding the motor car company that grew to gigantic proportions, died in a hospital here after an operation late today.

The Independent Republican, whose Senate career started in 1922, entered Harper Hospital on October 14, suffering with uremic poisoning. Members of his family, including his son, Mayor Frank Couzens of Detroit, were at his bedside when death came.

A WEALTHY MAN

Couzens, born in Chatham, Ontario, was one of the wealthiest men in the United States Senate.

He disagreed with Ford over policies in 1915, and resigned later selling his interest in the company to Henry and Edsel Ford for nearly $30,000,000.

Couzens' charitable benefactions, principally for the health and happiness of children in Michigan and elsewhere, were estimated to total more than $20,000,000, including a $10,000,000 trust fund established in 1929, with a stipulation that it must be spent within twenty-five years for the health and happiness of children in Michigan and elsewhere.

SCORE KILLED BY PREMATURE BLAST

Twenty-Five Men Felled by Stone And Flying Fragments in French Quarry

CAEN, France, Oct. 22 (P).—Havas—A fast-burning fuse connected with several blasting cartridges today caused a premature explosion in the Cautivout quarry near here, killing twenty-five workmen and injuring four.

The explosion occurred in the Cautivout quarry of the Cautivout group. Ordinarily accustomed to the elapse of about twenty minutes between the time the fuse is lighted until occurrence of the blast, the workmen were taking usual precautions when the blast came without warning.

Bursting stone and flying fragments felled twenty-five, of whom twenty-one were killed. The four injured workmen were taken to the Caen General Hospital.

ALBERTA DEBT CUTTING LAW TO BE TESTED

Edmonton Lawyers to Seek Court Ruling on Validity of Legislation

SCRIP APPLICATION STANDS ADJOURNED

EDMONTON, Oct. 22 (P)—Legislation of the Alberta Government figured prominently in court circles today in three separate actions.

The major development was a notice of motion filed in the Alberta Supreme Court by two Edmonton lawyers, R. D. Tighe and E. B. Wilson, which, if brought to trial, would test validity of the Government's debt reduction legislation.

Secondly, Attorney-General Hugh filed defences in two other actions launched against the debt-reducing legislation and intimidated his department would be represented in the Tighe-Wilson case.

APPLICATION ADJOURNED

Meanwhile, Mr. Justice Ford, of the Alberta Supreme Court, adjourned indefinitely an application by R. H. Watson, Edmonton, for trial of a motion to restrain the city of Edmonton from accepting provincial scrip money. Adjournment was made to permit lawyers on both sides to clarify their contentions.

STATED QUESTIONS

The Tighe-Wilson motion arose from the fact they are executors of the estate of A. E. Meyer, who died in Edmonton, July 26, 1936. The motion set forth eleven stated questions involving management of the Meyer estate in the light of the Reduction and Settlement of Debts Act. The eleventh question, which was believed to strike directly at the act's validity read: "Should the executors in the administration of this estate have regard to the provisions of the Reduction and Settlement of Debts Act or disregard the same?"

The workman approached the foreman of the factory.

"Can I have the afternoon off?" he said, "to see a chap about a job for the missus?"

"All right," agreed the foreman.

"You'll be back in the morning, I suppose?"

"Yes, if she doesn't land the job."

REXIST LEADER TO IGNORE BAN

Belgian to Lead 100,000 Followers in Big Demonstration in Brussels Sunday

BRUGES, Belgium, Oct. 22 (CP-Havas).—Leon Degrelle, youthful Rexist leader, declared tonight 100,000 of his followers would be in Brussels Sunday despite the ban on their proposed march on the capital.

"We demand respect for the people's liberty," he declared in a speech here. "The Rex was organizing a meeting for Sunday. There was nothing unconstitutional about it and yet it was banned."

"Sunday we will all be in Brussels. The special trains will be cancelled, but on Saturday 50,000 Rexists from the provinces will be in Brussels as guests of the Brussels Rexists."

"The King will hear us Sunday morning on the occasion of the review of the Veterans of the Year. There will be 100,000 of us to cheer him."

Eruption Report Proves Unfounded

HILO, Hawaii, Oct. 22 (P)—A report that the Kilauea volcano was in eruption caused brief excitement here today, but it soon was found to be due to visitors mistaking smoke and dust arising from the fire pit for lava outpouring.

Expert observers expressed the opinion the smoke was caused by a heavy landslide within the pit a few hours earlier.

Obituary

ROGERS—There passed away on Monday at Glendale, Calif., Mrs. S. A. Rogers, formerly of Esquimalt. Mrs. Rogers is survived by her husband, in Glendale; one sister, Mrs. James Hutchinson, 502 Paradise Street, Esquimalt, and one sister and two brothers in England. The remains are being forwarded to Victoria for burial. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

PRECE—The funeral of Miss Alice Adeline Prece, who passed away on Tuesday, will be held this afternoon in Sands Mortuary Chapel at 3 o'clock. Rev. Alan Gardner will conduct the service, after which interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

ROSS—The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Ann Ross, Styles Street, will be held this afternoon, the cortege leaving the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home at 1:30 o'clock and proceeding to St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, where Rev. James Hyde will conduct services at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

MILADY—The funeral of Rosanna (Rose) Milady, who passed away in this city on Monday, took place on Tuesday afternoon. A large number of friends attended and the casket was banked with many floral tributes. Rev. F. W. McKinnon, assisted by Rev. E. W. Horton, conducted the service, during which the hymns "Forever With the Lord" and "Lead Kindly Light" were sung. "In the Garden" was also sung as a solo by Mrs. H. Shingles. Interment was made in Colwood Burial Park, with the following as pallbearers: E. E. Brown, H. Smith and T. Smith.

BLAKE—Many friends attended the funeral of the late Gladys E. Blake, which took place on Thursday afternoon at the Seventh Day Adventist Church. Elder G. Johnson conducted the service, assisted by R. L. Robinson, during which the hymns "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "Hark, Hark My Soul," and "Gleams of the Golden Morning" were sung. Interment was made in Royal Oak Burial Park, with the following as pallbearers: A. Wootton, N. White, E. Galt, J. Wagner, R. Hill and S. Jewkes.

LEE—The funeral of William Hudson (Bill) Lee, who passed away at Fulford Harbor on Tuesday, took place yesterday afternoon. Relatives and a large gathering of sympathizing friends were in attendance. Many beautiful flowers testified to the popularity of Mr. Lee. Rev. Thomas Keyworth officiated, and the casket, draped with the Union Jack, was conveyed to St. Mary's Cemetery, Fulford Harbor, where interment was made. The pallbearers were J. Cairns, R. Maxwell, M. Gyles, G. Mout, G. E. Akerman and N. McElroy.

Funeral Chapel at 2:30 and proceeding to Christ Church Cathedral, where services will be conducted by Very Rev. C. S. Quinnoir, Dean of Columbia. At 2:45 o'clock interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

U.S. MAY PURCHASE GERMAN DIRIGIBLES

NEWARK, N.J., Oct. 22 (P)—The Newark Star-Eagle said in a copy-right article today it had learned on good authority that United States builders may buy from German builders two dirigibles similar to the Hindenburg and enter the trans-Atlantic transport field with Germany.

HELPS MAKE FARMING PAY

Miss Joan Homer, Beecher Bay, Bags Third Cougar Worrying Sheep

Miss Joan Homer, of Beecher Bay, is making quite a reputation for herself as a killer of cougar. She has now a total of three to the credit of her skill as a riflewoman, the last one being bagged last Sunday evening about 9:30 o'clock.

The big cat had killed two sheep belonging to the Homer farm, and was worrying the stock for some time. On Sunday night the cattle, which range in the nearby hills, came racing along the road to the farmhouse gates, creating considerable noise as they did so.

Feeling certain that a cougar was the cause, Miss Homer took a big game express rifle and went out to investigate. The cougar stopped in the road, but took cover immediately after being spotted. Searching for its hiding place, her colts chased the cat into a tree, where it was an easy matter to bring it down with a well-directed shot.

Miss Homer thinks there are a lot more of the brutes ranging through the district, five having been destroyed in the past three months, three by herself and two by Herb Parker of Rocky Point. A $200 bounty paid by the Government for killing cougars makes it worthwhile, Miss Homer added, "and helps to make farming pay."

REMITTING TAXES ON GOLD MINING

Drawback Allowed on Duties Paid For Materials Used in Production of Export

OTTAWA, Oct. 22 (P)—Gold mining companies are being allowed a 90 per cent drawback from duties and taxes paid on materials used in the production of gold for export under an order in council passed recently. A memorandum went forward to the customs collectors today notifying them of this provision.

The drawback may be recovered in connection with all gold deliveries to the Royal Mint for export since January 1, 1935. The chief advantage to the mining companies will be the recovery of taxes and duties on chemicals used in the treatment of ore, particularly the sales tax, and to a lesser degree customs duties paid when the chemicals are imported.

BOMBERS TO BE ORDERED

A London cable to The New York Times today said the first orders would be for twin-engine and single-engine light bombers, and were expected to go to the Martin and Curtiss-Wright companies, both of which have large plants standing idle.

According to The New York World-Telegram, Guy W. Vaughan, president of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation, denied his company was negotiating with the British Government.

STORIED SPOTS FROM SEA TO SEA

FROG LAKE MEMORIAL

Massacre! In the story of Western Canada's development, the dread word to Indian uprising has been heard but seldom. The few lurid incidents therefore stand out all the more prominently. During the Confederation period at least, the best known massacre in our history was that at Frog Lake. This is situated about ten miles north of the Saskatchewan River, and thirty miles above Fort Pitt. A trading post and a mission had been established here not long before the outbreak of the Rebellion of 1885. News of the defeat of the Mounted Police at Duck Lake excited the Indians at Frog Lake, especially the Plains Crees under an impetuous chief, named Wandering Spirit. The outbreak occurred on Holy Thursday, and nine men met their death including Indian Agent

PASSES AWAY IN HOSPITAL HERE

Mrs. J. McL. Muirhead Was Well-Known Resident of Victoria—Funeral Today

Mrs. Ella Grace Muirhead, wife of James McL. Muirhead, 223 Robert Street, a resident of Victoria for many years, passed away suddenly early Wednesday afternoon at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, her death coming as a great shock to a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. Muirhead was born in New Westminster in 1879 and for some time lived in Keremeos, B.C., before coming to Victoria to make her home. She was a much-loved member of the King's Daughters, having been a member of the Ready-to-Help Circle for many years and its president for the last two years.

She is survived by her husband and two sons, James L. and Richard H., at the family residence, and one daughter, Miss Elinor G. Muirhead, in Vancouver; her mother, Mrs. E. Lowe, and one brother, R. C. Lowe, both in Victoria, and one sister, Mrs. M. B. Ewart, of Nelson, who is at present in the city.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, Rev. P. V. Venables officiating. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Favorite Pianist Given Ovation by Theatre Audience

Mme. Gertrude Huntly Green Plays to Enthusiastic
Hundreds at Empire Theatre, Under Auspices
Of the Victoria Musical Arts Society

AN artist of perennial appeal, who for nearly two decades has held pre-eminent place in the affections of the Victoria concert-going public, was given an enthusiastic welcome last evening, when Mme. Gertrude Huntly Green played in recital at the Empire Theatre, under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Arts Society.

At the very peak of her artistic powers, she finished her final group to a veritable storm of applause, accompanied by a huge collection of flowers, both of which she acknowledged with several encores.

An artist of altogether exceptional character, Mme. Huntly-Green is the perfect virtuoso, with all that this implies in pure and flawless technique, perfect fluency in every minutest detail, utmost facility, and a rich palette of tone, ranging from such delicately spun tenderness as she employed in her opening number to the exuberantly joyous clamor of the Bach "Chorale" or the contemplative tone heard in the Beethoven.

THE PROGRAMME
Following her well-known custom, the pianist gave a most beautiful programme. Among the "larger" numbers were the Mendelssohn Prelude and Fugue in D Major, the prelude a masterpiece of sustained regularity of tempo and the fugue magnificently energetic and a beautifully polished bit of work; the great Beethoven Sonata, Opus 26, the variations having finely sustained.

This Box Will Hold Over Two Tons of Stoker Coal

JOHN HAS ADDED A PLAYROOM, AND SAVED MONEY, TOO

A hammer, some nails, boards cut to size... the simplest carpenter... and John has transformed the basement into a playroom. Anyone can build a stout coal bin that will keep the basement clean and save steps in stoking, whether the furnace is automatic or hand fed. The ideal combination—for heat, economy and ease of operation—is a coal stoker fed with NANAIMO, WELLINGTON or COMOX COAL. This gives practical perfection in home heating and comfort. No worry, no fuss, no dirt—and lots of warmth.

POLITICAL INTEREST IN MINISTRY BLAMED

airplane engines which, in his experienced judgment, were too high. "That statement got back to certain political interests in the Air Ministry, where apparently it was not received with favor," he declared. Throughout the whole development of activity in airplane engine-building his advice had been characterized by complete lack of support from political interests in the ministry. However, the technical side freely gave such help as they were allowed to put forward.

FIVE YEARS BEFORE TRIAL

"It was five years before we could get the ministry to accept one of our engines for trial, although the ministry had passed them for test," he continued.

He said he had spent £500,000 ($2,500,000) of his own personal money, always keeping accounts of the airplane engine factory absolutely distinct from those of his companies in which there were public shares.

CHOPIN GROUP

The Chopin group was also a great performance. Mme. Huntly-Green has always enjoyed an enviable reputation as an interpreter of Chopin, having a real sense of the romantic and poetic qualities, and a rarely captivating rubato and singing tone. The group contained the Ballade in F Minor, the alternately brilliant and caressing Impromptu in C Sharp Minor with crystalline runs, and the Scherzo. These she followed with the Chopin Waltz in E Flat, given with an encore, a completely captivating thing.

Her final group of comparatively modern numbers included the Grand "Maiden and Nightingale," an admixture of wistfulness and sparkling melody; the Albeniz "Navarra," a brilliant thing, technically like a four-handed performance, and full of stupendous technical difficulties; and Stanford-Granger's "A Reel." These were all superbly played.

The encores included one or two which showed the pianist's playful sense of humor, which peaked forth provocatively in two of the numbers particularly—the little number descriptive of a boy's life and whistle band, the other suggesting the patter-patter of "Rush Hour, Hong-Kong." For her final number she added, by special request, "Sous Bois" (Gaudi), which dates back to some of her earliest programmes in Victoria, and which she smilingly stated she knew so well that "she didn't know it at all."

CLASH AT HAMPSTEAD

LONDON, Oct. 22 (CP-Havas).—Fascists and anti-Fascists clashed at Hampstead tonight when a meeting organized in the Town Hall by the British Union of Fascists was interrupted and the speaker, William Joyce, manhandled and punched.

Although Skimmer the Sparrow and Mrs. Skimmer had been driven from the Old Orchard by Bully the English Sparrow, who had stolen their home, they did not at once give up hope.

"We'll let him think that he had driven us away," said Skimmer, "but we'll keep always on the watch, and if once he and Mrs. Bully leave the house unguarded we will make another effort to get it back. They are stronger than we are, but even if I did not love the old home so dearly I would hate to feel that we were driven out by these upstarts from the city. One thing they can't do, and that is stop us from flying where we please."

So forthwith Skimmer and Mrs. Skimmer spent all their time in the air over the Old Orchard, and all kinds of fancy figures high in the air over the Old Orchard. But while they were doing this and watching their old home, Bully and Mrs. Bully didn't know this, or if they suspected it, they didn't care. They were so sure that they had given Skimmer and Mrs. Skimmer such a beating that they would not dare come back to fight again. So they went to work at once to build their nest in the house they had taken from Skimmer.

At first Mrs. Bully kept close about the door while Bully brought the hay and dead grass with which to build the nest. He worked as hard as ever he could, but he couldn't find the material and bring it as fast as she wanted it, and she scolded him soundly for being so slow. At last she grew so impatient that she began to make little short trips herself. Gradually these trips became longer and longer so that it happened that, with both away, the house was unguarded for quite a little while sometimes.

Skimmer saw this, and, watching his chance darted down and into the house during one of these times. Mrs. Bully, returning with her bill full of grass, found him had put in there just as she had thrown out his nest in the first place. At once Mrs. Bully flew into a terrible rage. Dropping the materials she had taken such pains to collect she darted forward, screaming shrilly. Of course this brought Bully in a great hurry, and together they rushed to get Skimmer out.

But now the tables were turned. It had been comparatively easy to keep him out, but now that he was in they found that getting him out again was no easy job. Sitting in his doorway he bravely struck blow for blow, and as they couldn't get at him from behind they had to fight face to face. Mrs. Skimmer was helping all she could by darting in and striking Mr. and Mrs. Bully and then darting away before they could strike back. Such a racket, as there was in the Old Orchard. All the neighbors hurried over to look on and encourage the Skimmers, and everybody did a great deal of screaming.

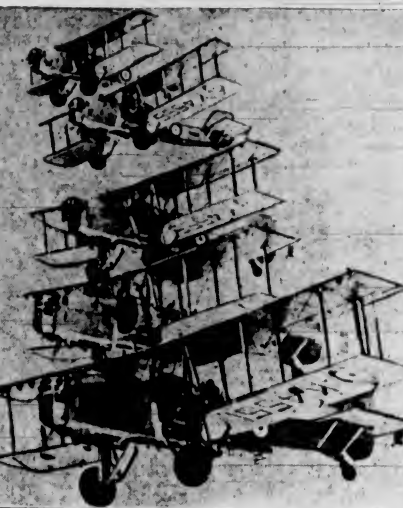

At last Bully closed his eyes to keep them from being hurt and forced his way in at the door. After a hard fight he managed to get Skimmer by the back of the neck, and, being the stronger, dragged him out bodily, where Mrs. Bully flew at him like the little feathered fury that she was. Poor Skimmer was glad to take the first chance to get away. He was beaten and he knew it.

"It's no use," he said sorrowfully, as Mrs. Skimmer tried to comfort him. "They've got the house and we are not strong enough to get it back. We've simply got to hunt up a new house and I suppose the sooner we do it the better."

"I suppose so," replied little Mrs. Skimmer, sadly.

ment "and if the country wants me I shall be there."

Referring to his interview with Lord Swinton and Lord Weir, the motor-car manufacturer said, "I was turned down flat. There was no excitement and no high words. 'I look my hat and my gloves and left. But before I went, I said to Lord Swinton: 'Well, God help you in case of war.'"

Anti-Vivisection Society Planning Tea Next Sunday

A tea, interspersed with musical selections, will be held on Sunday next at 1271 McKenzie Street (Fairfield district), through the courtesy of Miss Marie George. Interested persons, animal lovers and persons who are lonely are cordially invited between hours of 3.30 and 5.30 p.m.

The ladies of the Canadian Anti-Vivisection Society have the affair in-hand and a large attendance is expected. Those contributing to the musical programme include Kathleen Lavell and Miss Child, vocalists, and Mr. Tom McMartin, pianist.

There will be no charge for admission, but a collection will be taken on behalf of the organization.

One Killed When "Foolin' Around"

DALLAS, Oct. 22 (AP).—Pete Williams, twenty-nine, negro, was held to account for a gun battle in which Charlie Miller, another negro, was slain. Saying eight bullets missed him and he returned six, Williams explained:

"Shucks, we were just foolin' around. I went to Charlie's place and told him I wanted my woman back. Charlie said I couldn't have her, and so we just got to shootin'."

VICTORIA MAN IS ROBBERY VICTIM

Yuen Shoo Wing Beaten and Robbed on Highway Outside of Seattle Thursday

Yuen Shoo Wing, 1411 Government Street, Victoria, was the victim of an attack and robbery on the Tacoma highway, a few miles south of Seattle, Wednesday afternoon at 5.30 o'clock.

The young Chinese was driving in the direction of Seattle, after visiting the Boeing airfield, which is situated five miles outside the city, when a large car drove up beside him, forcing him to the curb. Four or five men then jumped out, according to Wing's story, and attacked him, punching him in the face, necessitating hospital treatment.

Seizing a camera, valued at $35, which Wing had in the front pocket of the car, they then jumped in their own machine and fled. The heavy traffic, which is moving on the highway at that time, probably accounted for the bandits' hasty departure.

Wing reported the holdup to the Seattle police and gave them the number of the bandits' machine, which he had secured before they made their escape. Up until the time when he left on yesterday morning's boat for this city, no trace of the holdup men had been found by Seattle police, Wing said.

south, having got through Navalcarnero, where the Government troops had hoped to block their advance for some time.

ON SOUTHWEST HIGHWAY

Mostoles is on a highway running southwest from Madrid to Navalcarnero, captured by the insurgents.

Torrejon is on a divergent highway out of Madrid between the capital city and Illescas, also held by the Fascists.

Fascist bands patrolled the slice of countryside between the two units, thus driving the ever-narrowing base of a triangle closer to Madrid.

With Madrid besieged, the Fascist high command was reported to have ordered its warships to sink Russian vessels alleged to be transporting arms to the Socialists.

Other European nations were notified of this order, the unconfirmed reports said.

TO MOVE CAPITAL

The harassed Government leaders, it was reported, had decided to move the seat of their capital to Barcelona, where President Manuel Azana and three high Cabinet officials have already set up offices.

With this development, Government leaders said, the Madrid forces would be able to make the civil war drag on indefinitely, no matter what the fate of Madrid, in the hope that sympathetic nations such as Russia might eventually offer concrete military aid before the Socialists' cause was irretrievably lost.

Within Madrid leaders installed a new supreme military commander and rushed a civilian reserve army of 100,000 men to the front.

CHANGE GENERALS

General Jose Asensio was relieved of command of Government forces in the Madrid area and the sixty-year-old general, Sebastian Pozas, tactical expert, put in his place.

One of the first Government objectives was announced as the recapture of Navalcarnero, although counter-attacks were planned on all Madrid sectors.

McMILLAN TO MEET BUXTON

Seattle Boxer Will Fight Local Featherweight Here On November 5

Russ McMillan, Sound city battler and only boxer to defeat Billy Buxton, Victoria featherweight, in a Seattle ring, has been booked to meet the local pugilist in the main event of the boxing card to be presented by the Esquimalt Athletic Club on November 5.

Nick Lytzer, who is promoting the show for the Esquimalt Athletic Club, signed the Seattle boy on Wednesday while in the Sound city. The bout is scheduled for ten rounds at 125 pounds.

Billy Buxton returned to the city yesterday after stopping Buddy Ambrose, Portland scrapper, in the first round of their scheduled four-round mix at Seattle. He will commence training immediately for the coming battle with McMillan and will be in tip-top shape on the evening of the match.

Bobby Parker, British Columbia amateur bantamweight champion, will make his professional debut on the card in the semi-windup, while Freddy Buxton, a brother of Sonny and Billy, will appear in the special event. The local four-round preliminaries will round out what looks like an attractive fight card.

Net proceeds from the show will go to the Esquimalt Athletic Club building fund.

City and District

Short Wave Club — The Victoria Short Wave Club will hold a meeting tomorrow evening at 2024 Carnarvon Street.

Store Robbed — After breaking a large window in the Williams' Meat Market, 761 Port Street, thieves stole $40 in cash, Reginald Williams told police yesterday.

New Members Greeted — At yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club, Thomas Keiley and P. J. Corcoran were welcomed as new members. The former was introduced by Frank J. Sehl and the latter by Frank Turley.

Conservatives Meet — Ward Four Conservatives will hold a postponed annual meeting at the Conservative Rooms, Campbell Building, at 8 o'clock tonight for the election of officers and other business. William Whitely will be in the chair.

Realists Meet Today — Professor E. M. Straight, of the Dominion Experimental Farm, will address members of the Real Estate Board of Victoria on "Some Things We Can Do" at a luncheon meeting at 12:30 o'clock today. The meeting will be held in Spencer's dining-room.

Social Credit Meeting — A Social Credit meeting will be held this evening in the Women's Institute rooms, 635 1-2 Fort Street, under the auspices of the Victoria District No. 3 Social Credit Association, starting at 8 o'clock. The speakers will be Mrs. H. Hamilton, Mrs. A. H. Dale and W. D. Todd.

Welcome Students — First-year Victoria High School students will assemble in the school auditorium this afternoon to be welcomed by Joseph Adam, president of the Students' Council. Presidents of the first-year classes will engage in a speech competition for a prize. A dance is to be held later in the gymnasium.

Ready for Session — Premier Pattullo called at Government House yesterday to advise His Honor in respect to policies advocated for the coming session. The speech from the Throne, embracing the Government's intentions, will be delivered by Hon. E. W. Hamber at the opening of the session, shortly after 3 p.m. on Tuesday next.

Is Sent to Jail — Wo Sun, a Chinese with a very bad record in the Prairie cities, was found guilty on two charges of obtaining money and goods by false pretences by using cheques improperly in the names of two other Chinese and will go to jail for one year. The cases were completed in the city police court yesterday when Magistrate Hall imposed a year's sentence in each case, the terms to run concurrently.

Lands Committee — A meeting of the City Council lands committee was held yesterday afternoon to discuss repairs necessary to the old Congregational Church property at the corner of Pandora Avenue and Blanshard Streets. Alderman R. A. C. Stewart, the chairman, pointed out considerable work was necessary on the east wall of the brick structure. Expert opinion as to the cost will be sought.

May Revise Grants — With health insurance about to be launched, the Provincial Government may revise existing cash grants to hospitals and put them on a new basis at this session, it was intimated yesterday by Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir. No definite decision had yet been reached, but the matter was under consideration and would be discussed with the British Columbia Hospitals Association, he said.

Remembers Victoria — Shirley Temple, the popular little actress of Hollywood, who visited Victoria this year, has advised the Rotary Club that she will send for the forthcoming superlative sale an article that she has used in one of her pictures. This is to be used in the sale by the Rotary Club and will be a prize offered for the girls. "Torchy" Peden, as previously announced, will send one of his racing bicycles as a prize for the boys.

Holding Social Tonight — The first of a series of social functions arranged for the Winter by the Victoria Council, the local branch of the Royal Arcanum, will take place tonight in the K. of C. Hall on Government Street.

Meeting Tonight — A meeting will be held under the auspices of the Victoria Branch, League of Nations Society, at the Y.W.C.A. this evening at 8 o'clock, in connection with National Peace Action Week, November 8 to 14. Invitations have been sent out to the various organizations of the city, asking them to send a representative to the meeting to assist in formulating a programme for Peace Action Week. Dean Quanton will take the chair.

Official Visit — Accompanied by Mrs. Adam, Acting-Mayor James Adam paid official visits to the Red Cross Workshop, where poppies are being made, and to the Women's Workshop yesterday afternoon. Alderman Adam congratulated the Red Cross Workshop officials for the varied employment provided for disabled war veterans. He paid tribute to the quality and workmanship of articles turned out at the Women's Workshop.

Red Chevrons Meeting — Originals of Imperial, Canadian and other Dominion forces who went overseas in the early months of the Great War will gather at an annual reunion of the Red Chevrons Association of Vancouver Island tomorrow evening at the Britannia Branch rooms of the Canadian Legion, at 715 View Street. Election of officers and other business will be discussed. Lieut.-Col. W. B. Latta, D.S.O., will be the guest speaker. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock.

Give Concert — The opening concert of the season for the Aged Men's Home by the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, was given Wednesday evening under the direction of C. A. Gill, Legion secretary, and J. Collins, entertainment organizer. Those taking part in the programme were as follows: The Sunset Serenaders Orchestra, Tom Oble, Stan James, Len Foster, J. Gow, G. A. Gill, W. Morry and J. Collins. Short addresses were given by C. A. Gill and Alderman Stanley Okell. Refreshments and tobacco provided by the visitors were distributed during the concert.

DUNCAN CAGERS WIN WITH EASE
DUNCAN, Oct. 22 — Duncan basketball team took the measure of Chemainus Green Lanterns by a 44-15 score in the first game of the mid-Island section of the Winter Cup League, played at the Agricultural Hall here last night. B. Kennett and G. Timothy handled the game and the teams were:
Duncan All-Stars — R. Jack, Collier (10), Simpson (2), E. Smythe (7), E. Bonner (4), Strouler (8), P. Tait (2), Whan (6), H. Mottishaw (5). Total 44.
Green Lanterns — Cruell (4), McGladrey (1), Work (6), Smith, W. Laidlaw (2), Hallberg, A. Laidlaw (2), E. Devitt. Total 15.
The score at half time stood at 22-8 in favor of Duncan.

Ettore Is Signed For Godoy Fight
NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP) — The Twentieth Century Sporting Club today signed Al Ettore, Philadelphia heavyweight, and Arturo Godoy, Chilean champion, for a ten-round bout in the New York Hippodrome on November 11.
Jorge Brescia, of the Argentine, knocked out by Joe Louis several weeks ago, will start a comeback campaign against Frankie Connelly, of Boston, in the Hippodrome, on November 4. The bout is scheduled for ten rounds.
Mike Jacobs, head of the Twentieth Century, thinks so well of Godoy's prospects he has signed the Chilean to fight exclusively under his auspices for the next year. Jacobs is guaranteeing Godoy $25,000 in purses.

KILLS COUGAR UP-ISLAND
LAKE COWICHAN, Oct. 22 — A large cougar, which was found closely following some of the employees of Camp 10, a few days ago, was shot down by George Johnston, one of the best cougar hunters in the district.

CHANCE IS MADE AFTER BAER MIX

TORONTO, Oct. 22 (AP) — A few hours after calling the Max Baer-Dutch Weimer bout here Monday "a fake, a fiasco and a disgrace to sport in this province," Premier Mitchell P. Hepburn yesterday appointed P. J. Mulqueen, chairman of the Ontario Athletic Commission, succeeding Hon. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health.

Dr. Faulkner, the Premier said, was not particularly interested in sports and requested some time ago that he be relieved of his duties. — Mr. Hepburn announced in future the commission would not issue a licence for boxing bouts until contracts between boxers and promoters had been filed.

Cantata to Be Sung by Choir Here

The Thanksgiving cantata, "Ruth," will be given in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, by an augmented choir under the direction of Jesse A. Longfield, organist and choir-master. This will be in connection with the seventieth anniversary of the church.

The cantata was composed by Alfred R. Gaul, who wrote "The Holy City," "Israel in the Wilderness," "The Passion," and many other popular sacred and secular cantatas. Part I tells the story of sorrow in the country of Moab, and on the road to Bethlehem when famine had spread over that whole country. The people, in prayer and supplication to God, asked to be delivered from the terrible condition existing then. In Part II, the cantata tells of the answer to prayers and the joy and gratitude of the harvest which followed the days of famine. The work is a truly beautiful piece of music composed of solos, duets, trios and choruses, and very fitting on the occasion of the anniversary of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The characters in the cantata are: Miss Labele Crawford as "Ruth," Mrs. P. W. Hawes as "Orpah," Miss Evelyn Telford as "Naomi," and Arnold W. Trevett as "Boaz."

The collection will be given towards the thank-offering and restoration fund of the church.

Miscellaneous Shower

An enjoyable evening was spent on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. Hall, 1419 Harrison Street, when a miscellaneous shower was held for the Fall bazaar, which is being sponsored by the W.A. to Britannia Branch No. 7, Canadian Legion, on November 19 at 2:30 p.m. in the branch auditorium, 715 View Street. Mrs. M. Ford sang two beautiful songs, "Rose of Tralee" and "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. Badger. A guessing contest, entitled "Know Victoria," was won by Mrs. M. Kayman. Mrs. E. Finn delighted the guests with two comic songs, "Waiting at the Church" and "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly," her amusing costume and action being received with loud applause. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hall, assisted by Mrs. Finn and Mrs. A. Norris, after which Mrs. Badger led the community singing. Mrs. E. Moon offered her home, 1127 Oscar Street, for a bridge party on Wednesday, October 28, at 2:30 p.m. Members and friends intending to go are asked to telephone Mrs. Moon, at Empire 8881. The evening was brought to a close with a vote of thanks to Mrs. Hall, the guests singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "Auld Lang Syne." Those present were Mesdames E. Finn, A. Norris, A. Browne, C. Badger, G. Rev. B. Wait, E. Swan, M. Dempster, M. Kayman, M. Ford, A. E. Kendrick, E. Moon, S. Beech, O. T. Aspray, E. Jones, G. Sheldrick, W. Green, J. Dolphin, M. Sweetman and Mrs. A. Hall.

Gleaners' Circle
The monthly meeting of the "Gleaners' Circle" was held recently at the home of Mrs. M. L. McLennan, 311 Vancouver Street. Miss Gladys Schroeder presided. The devotional period, led by Miss Evelyn Baxter, opened the meeting. A short business period followed, in which the treasurer's report was given.

Plaid Woolens for Autumn

Brown and Beige Plaid Sheer Wool Frock, Belted, With Slide Fastener Under the Aseot.

Courtesy Good Housekeeping
BOTH at home and abroad, plaid is in a suit and coat. There are three-quarter-length capes, seven-eighths-length topcoats, and fitted, hip-length jacket suits in plain fabrics combined with plaids. Wool dresses also are seen in plaids, and these are among the smartest clothes worn. The dress pictured is such a one. In brown and beige plaid. It closes under the Aseot with a slide fastener. The fuller, bias-cut skirt in the shorter length—fourteen inches from the ground—is to be noted.

Colored gloves are being worn right through the Autumn. Many are in two colors, as red doekin with black bandings, to match the other accessories; copper colored gloves worn with an all-black outfit.

As to shoes, smartly dressed women are wearing the Juliet type in black suede, sometimes piped with patent. Square-toes and square heels are preferred with sports costumes.

Card Party Held In North Saanich
SIDNEY, Oct. 22.—The annual military "500" and social evening held under the auspices of the Catholic ladies of North Saanich, took place in Stacey's Hall recently. There were thirty-five tables in progress. The hall was decorated for the occasion with greenery, and streamers in gold.

The winners of the "500" were: First table, Mr. and Mrs. M. Blackford, Mr. W. D. Mitchell and Mr. Blackford, with twenty-nine ladies; second table, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Woolsey, Ralph Mitchell and Mr. Blackford, with twenty-seven ladies; third table, W. Watson, P. Ricketts,

Guiding Forms Close Bond of Fellowship

Today is International Day of the Canadian Girl Guide Week, when Guides throughout Canada will be stressing the international significance of Guiding in linking together 1,500,000 girls in forty-two countries in the Guide Sisterhood of youth and service.

The Guides of Canada keep in touch with their sisters around the world through the national post boxes which arrange for correspondence between countries, and through the various international camps and conferences, which are held each year.

WORLD GUIDE CHALET

Canadian Guides share with others the World Guide Chalet in Adelboden, Switzerland, which serves as an international holiday home and training centre. The World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts binds together the many National Guide Associations and the Canadian Girl Guide Association ranks as fourth in the membership of the World Association.

The Girl Guides of Vienna have an old castle as their headquarters. Streets and rows of houses have sprung up around it, but the castle stands in all its romantic beauty in a little old park with beautiful columns and fountains. It is one of Maria Theresa's hunting lodges. It was inaugurated last year with a speech from Archduchess Ileana and an exhibition of Guide handicrafts and amusements.

An enterprising company of Austrian Guides held an Easter Camp Week in the heart of the Tyrolean Mountains and took part in the Easter ceremonies and services in the village below.

LEPER GUIDES

There are several companies of lepers in the world, and in these companies the girls enjoy the Guide work and play with alternatives adapted to their crippled conditions. Knitting is a favorite pastime of a leper company in India, and cooking also interests them greatly. This company also has its own Guide library.

Into Malay the Guiding hand reached to bring together as Guides a Malay girl, whose joy as a small child at seeing and caring for a white baby for the first time was culminated on the day when both the children grew up and were enrolled in the Guide sisterhood.

When the Guides assembled for a Guide Camp Week in Uganda, they were generously provided with food by the village chief. During the week the Guides cleared a half acre field for their daily bread, and with her daily blessings showered on them, planted enough food to last her for six months.

Two African princesses, the daughters of the King of Uganda, were enrolled as Guides in a company of twelve African girls who are betrothed to natives who want their households in European style.

When visiting aboriginal Guides at Box and Badu Islands in the Torres Straits of Australia, groups of native girls became so enthused with Guiding that they proceeded to form their own patrols when they returned to their own Swae Island, and are carrying on the work in these native settlements with the assistance of the Aboriginal Department of the State of Queensland.

IN POLAND

In Poland, in the heart of the Carpathian Mountains, is a house in the Goral village of the province of Silesia as a training school for the Guides. During term time the State schools in certain big Silesian towns for Guides training, and a group of Guides and resident school teachers. In Poland, fire is the symbol of life, so from one Guide campfire to another a part of the embers is saved. When a Guide leaves the training school she takes a stick from the embers with which she starts her own company campfire. During the terrible Quetta earthquake in India, 1935, the Indian Guides and Scouts rendered splendid service in caring for the injured and in the general clearance work. From a Hindu Guide comes the comment that Guiding has played a large part in helping the Indian girls to understand each other's point of view and has brought the women and girls of the different castes together through Guide camps and conferences.

Weddings

NAPPER-MACPIERSON
Capt. and Mrs. J. D. Macpierson announce the marriage of their only daughter, Eileen Mary Ena, to Mr. Jack Ronald Paul Napier, youngest son of Mrs. H. G. Napier and the late Lieut.-Colonel H. G. Napier. The ceremony took place last Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Napier will reside in Victoria.

PRETTY BRIDESMAID
Miss Kathleen Riley, a cousin of the bride, attended as bridesmaid, wearing a becoming pink lace gown with a blue sash. With this was worn a short lace jacket, with deep fitted peplum and long sleeves frilled at the wrist. Her hat, which was a halo model of pink net, was trimmed with a wreath of pink velvet flowers, and she carried an arm bouquet of pale yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Joan Peet, sister of the groom, made an attractive flower girl in a dainty frilled frock of mauve flat crepe, with a wide sash. She wore a floral bandeau in her hair and carried a basket of yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Kneal Quaye supported the groom.

The church had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with garlands of Autumn flowers and foliage, and the side pews were marked with bows of white ribbon and gold chrysanthemums.

WEDDING RECEPTION

Following the marriage service, a largely attended reception was held at "Takara," the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Richard West, West Saanich Road, where the bride and groom, standing beneath a floral bell suspended from a pink and white floral arch, received the good wishes of their many friends.

Mrs. Clarke, mother of the bride, becomingly gowned in navy figured silk with moire and satin trimmings, and Mrs. Peet, mother of the groom, in a wine colored silk dress, with beige geometric trimmings, assisted in receiving the guests. Both

DELIVERY—We Deliver Anywhere in the City or Suburbs

"20 Years Old at 79"

I'm in the "Talkies" now! Here's why. Seven years ago I started lecturing, at 71. I had never done public speaking, but I got along—as anyone will who has a real message. Soon I had invitations to lecture all over America—and in England, too. Now for 10 months each year I do nothing but lecture, travelling 15,000 miles in a season. Still, engagements offer that I cannot fill so I have made a talkie to give my message at places where I cannot go personally. This talkie is called "One Young Man" and it shows how I spend my days from the time I rise at 4:30 a.m. When you see this picture, you will say "He doesn't say much about his food." I don't. I don't say much about them in my advertising, nor lectures. I tell people what my foods—(Roman Meal, Bekus-Puddy, Lishus and the alkali-forming beverage Kofy-Sub) and fresh air, exercise, etc., have done for me and let them draw their own conclusions. Those who see me on the platform or who will see me on the screen can draw only one conclusion—that the foods which can build such a body as mine at almost 79 are unequalled as builders of youthful, elastic, flexible, supple, resilient and resistant bodies. The thoughtful and sincere need no other inducement to use Roman Meal, Bekus-Puddy, Lishus and Kofy-Sub, all natural laxatives, Kofy-Sub, being the richest in blood-making iron of anything known to me. The unthinking cannot be induced to use sensible foods, and anyway, I have no interest in them. If you are interested in a youthful, well-formed, elastic, flexible, supple, resilient and resistant body—and if you would be always "on your toes" physically and mentally, write for free booklet "How to Keep Well" and other literature—address Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., 576 Vine Ave., Toronto.

The photographs in this advertisement are taken from the Talking Picture "One Young Man" featuring a day in the life of Dr. Jackson.

To Be Married Next Month

Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Bechtel, Prospect Place, Oak Bay, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Elizabeth (Betty), to Mr. Charles Whitworth Stanbury, third son of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Stanbury, Halifax, Nova Scotia. The wedding will take place quietly in November.

Kitchen Shower
The home of Mrs. Leslie Cull, 1469 Taunton Street, was the scene of a delightful kitchen shower on Monday evening given by Mrs. E. Cull and Mrs. M. M. Whitaker in honor of Miss Margaret Hamilton, a November bride-to-be. The rooms and supper table were beautifully decorated with autumn flowers. During the evening, games were played, after which supper was served. The invited guests were: Mesdames A. Robinson, W. Hamilton, D. S. Blackmore, O. Trickett, A. Knight, B. Adams, H. Walker, C. Yule, P. Doherty, Earl, J. Rodd, A. McDonald, M. Cowlin, A. Ellis, W. Cobbert, W. Carey, W. Cull, H. Cull, E. Robinson, Mesdames Dora Stocken, Dora Higgins, McGuire, M. Gourlay, M. Daly, D. Ellison, T. Rennie, G. Rennie, F. Ellis, Ada Carter and B. Cull.

Gifts for Bride-to-be
A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of the Mesdames Ruth and Edna Coates, 166 Joseph Street, in honor of Miss Sally Dwyer, a November bride-to-be. The gifts were concealed in a basket prettily decorated in blue and white. The evening was spent in games and singing. The prizes were won by

Guides Are Entertained

A delightful party, attended by 100 past and present members of the Lady Douglas and Gonzales Companies of the Girl Guides, was held last evening at the home of the provincial commissioner, Mrs. Alan Morkill, Pemberton Road. The party was held in celebration of the twenty-first birthday of the companies, which have had an unbroken existence ever since Guiding was started in Victoria in 1915.

In the early part of the evening, Mrs. Morkill entertained the Guides with an informal talk illustrated with many interesting pictures of the World Guide Camp, which she attended during the Summer in Denmark, and other pictures of special interest to Guides. She also spoke of the proposed new branch of Guiding which is to be started in England and which will have as members ex-Guides over the age of twenty-one who still wish to take part or to keep in touch with Guide work.

Campfire, with its songs and general jollification, was held before supper, and the guests, many of whom have ceased to be members of the company, enjoyed a friendly hour of reminiscence and chat. Lady Colville and Miss Ethne Gale had charge of the campfire. Among the special guests were Mrs. Kinloch, Shannigan, who for many years was deputy provincial commissioner.

BAPTIST
The Young People of the Emmanuel and First Baptist Churches held their joint meeting at Emmanuel Church on Tuesday, Rev. A. E. Banks, Chemsun, gave an interesting and inspiring illustrated lecture on "Palestine and the Jews," showing the return of the Jewish people to their own land, and the wonderful progress that has been made there in the last few years.

Pianist Is Honored at Reception

"Schuhum." Rockland Avenue, kindly lent by Miss Agnew for the occasion, was the scene of a delightful "welcome home" reception in compliment to Mme. Gertrude Huntly Green last evening, following her memorable recital at the Empire Theatre.

The arrangements were beautifully carried out, with masses of magnificent autumn flowers in reception hall, drawing-room, library and dining-room. The supper table was decked in the modernistic way with handsome big single dahlias in individual holders set amidst various colored candles. The color scheme in the drawing-room was pink and mauve, and in the library, red and yellow.

Receiving on behalf of the Musical Arts Society were Mrs. Alton Peebles, the president; Mrs. J. O. Cameron, who originally sponsored the recital; Miss Agnew, and Mme. Gertrude Huntly Green. Other members of the Musical Arts executive on the special invitation list were Miss Lora Blake, Mme. Eva Baird, Mrs.

Thou shalt not Love

by Alma Sioux Scarberry

CHAPTER I

It was the switchboard operator near the elevators who gave Jocelyn Kelvin the message that sent her heart to the bottom of her little brown oxford with a dull thud. Cruel words, those:

"Miss Kelvin, H.L. would like to see you right away."

A summons to the high presence of the fiery Harlow L. Buell usually meant only one of two things. He did the firing for the Crampson Newspaper Syndicate. Or it meant you had done something so stupid and unforgivable that only the cutting, belittling sarcasm of the chief himself could cut you down to your proper size.

Jocelyn shivered as she walked mechanically down the hall to the room that had been her office for almost a year. Before she put her hand on the knob she ran it quickly, almost lovingly, over the black lettering on the door:

MARY LOU TEMPLE

Love Advice

Inside she took off her hat and stood on tiptoe to smooth her straight blue-black hair that fell in a shiny short bob around her small head. On second thought she went to her desk and took out her horn-rimmed glasses, hoping they gave her dignity. And hoping against hope that she looked as though she were just going to settle down to her type-writing, rather than leave it forever. Fighting against the panic in her breast, she threw open the door and took a deep breath of the rain-flushed April air before she gathered courage to walk the few feet to where Mr. Buell was waiting for her. The strong arm of the powers that be was busy with some papers on his desk, and for several minutes after his secretary had admitted Miss Kelvin, and had gone out, he paid no attention to her. Then he turned in his swivel chair and lit a cigarette slowly before he spoke.

"Warming up a bit," he yawned slightly, and his thin tired face cracked into what Jocelyn presumed was meant to be a smile. Just like a cat toying with a mouse, she thought, but answered as brightly as her dry throat would allow. "It's lovely. Our Easter flowers are out."

"Jackson Heights?" Mr. Buell interrogated almost wistfully, and Jocelyn nodded. He yawned again. "Always wanted to live out that way myself. Too far from the office. Got to live downtown here in one of these blasted hotels."

"It must be hot in Summer," Jocelyn was beginning to feel a little sorry for the small redheaded man before her. Maybe he didn't like his job of cutting off heads around the office so well, after all. Sort of putting off the agony.

Suddenly, as though Mr. Buell had been jerked with string, he sat back in his chair and crushed out his cigarette. Jocelyn folded her hands and sat looking very straight and prim in her chair. Mr. Buell cleared his throat.

"Miss Kelvin," he began heavily. The ringing of the telephone was such an anticlimax to the dread moment that Jocelyn jumped nervously.

Mr. Buell sighed grimly: "Now what?"

In a few seconds he turned from the phone, and picked up a paper clip to bend into a pretzel before he went on.

"Miss Kelvin," he began again, and Jocelyn wanted to scream.

"Yes, Mr. Buell," she said helpfully, trying to keep the fear out of her voice. "You wanted to see me?"

"Yeah?" he tossed the twisted clip into the waste paper basket and picked up another one. "Wanted to have a talk with you yesterday but things kept happening too fast. You like your work here, don't you?"

"Oh, very much," Jocelyn assured him with a white smile. "All my life I've wanted to write."

His face loosened into a grimace. "Well, cheer up! Maybe you will some day."

Suddenly Miss Kelvin realized that the redoubtable Mr. Buell was attempting to be humorous. She grinned uncertainly back at him.

"Awful trash," he actually chuckled. "But tell me. You took this job last year with the full understanding that it was not to be permanent, didn't you?"

Jocelyn winced.

Then he sat back and lit another cigarette.

"You're pretty young, Miss Kelvin. If you weren't the type of girl you are I wouldn't consider it. It's not a column I want tossed around and done by a new woman every year."

Mrs. Temple wrote it forty years. She's past seventy now. We got it released on the Mary Lou Temple byline and it will always be run under her name."

"It would be a shame to change it," Jocelyn agreed, nodding. "Mary Lou Temple is an institution."

"Now about yourself," Buell looked up, and his gimlet brown eyes seemed to bore through her. "Mind if I ask a few very personal questions, Miss Kelvin?"

embarrassed. A faint blush started at the nape of her white neck and spread over her round little cheeks and to her wide, intelligent forehead.

"Bless my soul!" Buell grinned widely for the first time. You are young, kid. Nobody would ever take you seriously without those cheekers. But you've got as many brains as any man around this office if you use 'em. Tell me something about your family, now that you're to be a permanent institution."

"My family?" Jocelyn warmed to the change in the little man whom everybody around the office feared. "Well, let me see. Did you know I had a twin sister?"

"That's mother. It was made the year she and father were married. She was Maida St. Johns of Philadelphia."

"So," H.L. ran a hand through his thinning red hair, "we had a debutante in our midst all this time and I didn't know it. Funny it hasn't gotten out around the office."

"It mustn't," Josh's brown eyes were in deadly earnest. "We're poor now, and I'm glad. Really I am. I'm about as much suited to society as a clochopper. Mother and Jake love it. But I never cared for social life, and neither did Dad. Jinx is going to be like us, I guess."

"Don't worry about my telling your secret," Buell looked at his watch and jumped. "Say, do you know we've been gabbing around here more than an hour? I've got to dash."

"I've talked your ear off," Buell got up, and there was nothing forced about his grin when he held out his hand.

"Good luck, Miss Temple. So you promise to always remain a bachelor girl and never let your heart interfere with your job?"

She crossed her heart solemnly, her eyes twinkling behind her owl-horn rims.

"So help me! Nobody loves a fat girl."

"Don't call yourself fat." "You just look as though you've had a few too many chocolate sodas. That's because you're short and wear heavy tailored suits, I guess."

"Well, keep your specs on, Miss Temple. You'll do."

When he walked to the door and opened it for her, still smiling as she passed out, Miss Little, his secretary came alone. She could have fainted from shock. But she was too well trained to show her surprise or curiosity.

The telephone operator looked up sympathetically as Miss Kelvin passed, and was amazed to see the love expert with pink shining cheeks and glowing eyes. A summons to H.L.'s office usually meant the chief had brought out all his pet barbs.

The first thing Josh did when she had recovered her bearings was to pick up the phone in her office and break the good news to her mother. Thus the operator's curiosity was satisfied.

Still smiling, Miss Kelvin picked up the first letter in the pile on her desk and all it with her ivory opener. It was written on art department stationery.

"My Dear Miss Temple: I am an old roue of twenty-nine, that way about an old hag of twenty-two. But she doesn't take me seriously. Trouble is, Miss Temple, she is a nice, old-fashioned girl. Plain, plump, doesn't care for clothes or social life. While I, woe is me, imbibe too freely, stay out till ten or eleven Saturday nights, and my failing is blondes. She is brunette."

"Miss Temple, what can I do to induce her to attend the ball I am throwing at my 'stewdio' tonight?"

"Signed: Wistful Wisteria Willie"

Josh slid a sheet into her typewriter and wrote blithely:

"My Dear Wis. Wil: Have you never been to the cinema? Girls are not always what they seem. I saw a picture once where a girl took off her specs, went on a diet, found the right dressmaker and you'd never guess the rest of the plot. Fact is, there was no limit to her beauties, nor her wiles, once they were uncovered. As for you, you are too old to change. Alas, too old and steeped in sin. Keep on string. Maybe the girl will yet love you for what you aren't."

"Signed: Auntie Mary Lou."

"P.S. I'll come down and cook your old dinner, if you don't have fish again."

Josh called an office boy and sent her answer up to the art department. She wondered just what she would have done when she stepped into the strange new world of artist, writers and editors if it hadn't been for Lincoln Lane. Lane, whom she had known since she was a small girl when they had the big summer house down at Southampton, and he used to come and visit his aunt Mable next door.

At twenty-nine he was a famous cartoonist, the highest paid and the most valued member of the Crampson art staff. Lane had taken Josh under his wing the day she came into the office, and had been her best friend and greatest pest ever since.

If, either by note, phone or popping his close-cropped brown head into her office door, he had not made it known he wanted her to come to Greenwich Village and mess around in his kitchen with some outlandish fish dinner Friday nights, she would have felt neglected. The evenings with Lane in his studio sitting over a bottle of wine solving the problems of the universe had become the happiest in her strange new life.

Josh had difficulty in taking her mind off Mr. Buell and his kindness. The joy of knowing she was really a part of the office now, and the thousand and one things that raced through her mind to interfere with her column. Finally, deeply concentrating, she began her article for Sunday.

"Times have changed," Mary Lou Temple was telling her millions of readers. "No longer do we pick, deeply the girl who decides to remain a bachelor, choosing a career rather than a husband, 'home and babies'."

"No longer do we assume she never had a chance to say 'yes, poor thing! There was a day when a girl would marry a man entirely undesirable rather than be left an old maid. It is fortunate that day has passed."

"The woman who does not find true love, or whose heart and soul is tied up in her job, may be just as happy in her own way as the little mother out in the suburbs with her babies and garden. We are not all alike."

Jocelyn ran through her daily pile of letters and was sorry only a few could be answered. That she could pick out only the most interesting—the ones with a new theme. She was not permitted to answer them in any way but through the papers, and there was so little space.

One, particularly, made her feel young and incompetent. It was from a little sixteen-year-old high school girl in Louisiana.

"My Dear Miss Temple: 'Oh, if you could only help me, or tell me what to do. Sometimes I think I will just die with a broken heart. We are very poor and I haven't any pretty clothes. Nobody ever invites me to a party. Down here they call us white trash, and I am in love with a boy, seventeen, but he never even speaks to me. I know if I had something decent to wear, like other girls, he would. My father drinks and gets put in jail, and I could just kill myself because the boy I love hears about it.'"

It went on for two pages and was signed "Heartbroken." Josh wanted to weep when she looked closely at the cheaply lined, penciled paper and saw that the letter was spotted with tears.

Mr. Buell would call it trash. But to the new Miss Temple there was never anything amusing about the letters that poured in by the dozens.

daily, from her unknown readers, begging her to help solve their problems. It was as though they had no one else to whom they could turn, and she felt she must not fail them.

Perhaps that is what the old Mrs. Temple had read between the lines when she stepped aside and recommended that Miss Kelvin be given her job—Mrs. Temple had always felt that way, too.

Josh wrote to "Heartbroken," with a lump in her throat:

"You must keep your chin up, and never admit—even to yourself, that you are not just as good as the richest, best-dressed girl in the world. Study hard and finish high school, then you should be able to get a job and work your way out of your surroundings. Many of the most famous people in the world came from just such a home as yours. This is a country where every one is equal."

"If you are respectable, work hard, keep yourself neat and well groomed, even if you do have to wear patchy, the people who are real will admire and respect you for it. The others don't matter. And some day, when you are older, there will be just the right Prince Charming. Remember Cinderella? Hold your head up and smile!"

When Jocelyn read back over her effort it sounded entirely inadequate and very true. There were so many things she would have liked to say. She wrote feverishly the rest of the afternoon, forgetting everything else. Her cheeks, round cheeks were red as cherries, and her wide brow beaded with perspiration when Lincoln Lane opened the door of her office.

FOG HORN BATTERIES—DARE NOT FAIL

A SUDDEN fading of the horizon —a dimming of the ships and scenes nearby—then no visibility—fog!

It is then that the fog sirens ashore and at sea must drone out their doleful warning note. No failure of electric power dare interrupt their vigil. That is why the great shipping companies at sea and governments ashore depend upon the unfailing power of Exide batteries to protect life and property.

When governments, and great steamship companies, for whom only the best is good enough, choose Exides surely you, as a motorist, can safely let their selection be your guide. You want a battery for your car that you can rely upon. It must start your car in any weather. Therefore, don't take chances—buy an Exide. The experience of over 48 years of battery manufacturing goes into every Exide.

The Exide dealer in your community can be depended upon to give you honest battery or other electrical service. He has been chosen as an Exide dealer because of his knowledge and experience in electrical service.

WHEN IT'S AN Exide YOU START

When you buy a battery, buy an Exide. Then you will be sure—sure of starting—sure of long service—sure of the best value for your money.

THE NEW EXIDE HYCAP

To meet the growing demand of car owners for a battery of much higher capacity than usual, Exide have produced the powerful new Hycap (high capacity). The Exide Hycap will easily take care of the increased demands of a defroster, car heater, radio, etc., and still provide plenty of power for starting in any weather.

Dr. E. W. Kenyon, Seattle, styled the pastor of the radio church of the air, will give two addresses, morning and afternoon, at the Church of Our Lord, corner of Humboldt and Blanshard Streets, next Sunday.

Dr. Kenyon is a noted speaker and has conducted services over the air from Seattle for some time. He also edits weekly, a series of living Bible studies, writes hymns and composes their musical settings. He is also known as the "Lone Poet of the Olympics," and has written a book, "The Wonderful Name of Jesus."

Dr. Kenyon will be the preacher at the morning service and there will be a special service in the afternoon, to which the public is invited.

SAYS LITTLE TALK OF WAR IN ENGLAND BUT SITUATION REALIZED

"You hear very little talk of war in England, although it is generally recognized that Europe is sitting on the edge of a volcano," remarked

C. W. Lonadale, headmaster of the Shawmigan Lake School for Boys, at the Empress Hotel yesterday, on his return from a holiday in England.

Mr. Lonadale said his tour of the United States, British West Indies and England had greatly improved his health.

Mr. Lonadale visited his old school at Westminster and attended the new Educational Fellowship conference at Cheltenham, which last Summer attracted delegates from all parts of the world. In various centres in England he saw evidences of great activity, with the airplane manufacturing plants.

If October 23 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon, from 3 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m. from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 5 to 7 p.m.

If October 23 is the anniversary of your birth, Scorpio is the zodiacal sign under which you were born. People as a rule born under this sign are courageous, tenacious, intellectual, inclined to be either extravagant where their own or their family's comfort is concerned if they can afford to be, or very thrifty if conditions require. Frankness, spontane-aneous drollery, mental alertness and physical spryness are probably outstanding characteristics. Walking ought to be among your favorite diversions, as well as games requiring quick foot or hand work. You should be fond of reading, the fine arts and social life. Married and engaged couples as well as those on the verge of becoming engaged will do well to remember that the natural affinities of those born on this date are: The topaz, as their lucky birthstone; the red carnation, gentian, thistle, and honeysuckle are their natal flowers; blood red or crimson are Scorpio's colors. Impulsive in love, their loyalty and devotion can generally be counted on. If a woman and October 23 is your birthday, you are probably very proud, sensitive and resolute. Skepticism and uncalm for feelings of apprehension must be suppressed. If you would save yourself from a great amount of unnecessary worry, control a natural tendency to be inquisitive. You ought to be very fortunate in business ventures, friendships and social activities. You are probably very appreciative of fine music, art and literature. Your sense of taste is likely to be very keen, so you are apt to be very discriminating in everything pertaining to food. As a distiller, housekeeper, restaurant manager, trained nurse, writer, artist, musician or saleslady you have every chance to win a fine reputation, and to accumulate a nice nest egg. The child born on October 23, generally before it reaches its teens, requires discipline, patience, and careful training to correct faults, which, if ignored, can later on handicap their chances of success. With proper supervision they will develop into fine men and women. If a man and October 23 is your natal day, be careful that bluntness does not interfere with your popularity. You ought to be quick at repartee, and possess the art of salesmanship. As a businessman, author, inventor, lawyer, doctor, educator, actor, artist, musician or sales representative you may become very prosperous. The Church of England in Canada sponsors four women religious orders. These are the Sisters of St. John the Divine, with headquarters at Toronto; the Sisters of the Church, Toronto; the Sisters of St. Margaret, in Montreal and Brackenbridge; and the Society of the Love of Jesus, in Vancouver.

LECTURE ON AFRICA OF WIDE INTEREST

Study groups, specializing in the relations between the constituent parts of the Empire, and their connections with other countries, will find Lionel E. Taylor's forthcoming lecture at the Empress Hotel ballroom, Monday, on his recently completed 12,000-mile caravan trek through South Africa of especial interest.

Mr. Taylor and his party spent some time in the mandated territories; formerly the German colonies. The photographs secured by Lieut.-Col. G. A. Duncan, the photographic expert of the expedition, were taken by the Kinley natural color process, and give an excellent idea of the terrain as well as of the flora and fauna of the country. They show in some detail the work being done under the protectorate of the Union of South Africa, and how large areas, formerly unproductive, are being developed.

In Great Britain the British Broadcasting Corporation gives about five per cent of its programme time to religion, either as services or talks on religious subjects. There is a full-time director of religious broadcasting, who is a clergyman of the Church of England. He is assisted by a central religious advisory board, which contains representatives of the Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist, Presbyterian and Roman Catholic Churches.

GRIPPING DRAMA IS AT DOMINION

Gary Cooper and Madeline Carroll Seen Together in "The General Died at Dawn"

A gripping drama of intrigue, romance and adventure, "The General Died at Dawn," which begins today at the Dominion Theatre, brings Gary Cooper to the screen in another colorful soldier-of-fortune role.

With modern China as its background, the plot of "The General Died at Dawn" revolves around the weakening of China to the oppression of her predatory warlords and the beginnings of a spirit of resistance. Cooper, as the champion of the downtrodden, is in the ranks of the new movement. Playing opposite him is beautiful Madeline Carroll in the role of the lure held out by a war-lord to lure Cooper to destruction. Also on the same bill is "Rush Hour Rhapsody," a color cartoon.

OAK BAY "Hands Across the Table" and "Dangerous" comprise a twin bill of entertainment being offered at the Oak Bay Theatre today and tomorrow. "Dangerous," with Bette Davis, Franchot Tone, Margaret Lindsay and Allison Wood in the title roles, is a city-life thriller with dramatic situations to hold interest until the climax is reached.

ATLAS The organization of THEATRE men whose work was largely responsible for making a unified, law-abiding state out of the sprawling sections of early Texas is immortalized in King Vidor's epic, "The Texas Rangers," now at the Atlas Theatre. "The Texas Rangers" features a cast headed by such stars as Fred MacMurray, Jack Oakie, Jean Parker, Lloyd Nolan, Edward Ellis and Bennie Bartlett.

CAPITOL Seven years ago Greta Garbo played the role of the aunt of Madge Evans in "Phillip Goes Forth," the last stage appearance of Miss Evans before she went to Hollywood. Now the relationship changes, and Greta Witherspoon went to Hollywood to play the mother of Miss Evans in "Piccadilly Jim," now at the Capitol Theatre, which marks Miss Witherspoon's debut as a film actress.

COLUMBIA Stealing a man's horse was a greater crime than killing the man himself in the old days of the West. So, in the new picture, "The Cattle Thief," hero of a hundred western dramas and one of the outstanding authorities on the West, his latest Columbia screen play, "The Cattle Thief," is now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

PLAZA Patricia Ellis, who has played the romantic lead in the First National picture, "The Girl of the Year," is now showing at the Plaza Theatre, estimates that she could dance her way through sixty-three colleges in thirty-nine states if she accepted all the invitations to proms and house parties which she has been proffered by collegian fans.

COLE PLAYERS WILL PRESENT "BAD MAN"

The Cole Players, well-known local artists, will present their first play this season at the Empire Theatre on Monday and Tuesday next. "The Bad Man" is the title for the new season play, and judging from advance reports it contains plenty of laughs, thrills and romance.

Robert Riddout will be seen in the leading role, supported by Enid Cole, Mary Lindgren, Dorothy Gannor and Brian Renwick, Frank Taylor, Don Blake, Gordon Fraser, John Ryan, Gregory Crawley, William Knowlton, Richard Gatehouse and Denis Humphries.

NOTED MALE CHORUS IS IN BIG DEMAND

In September, 1936, the world-famous Dixie Chorus, conducted by tiny Serge Jaroff, began their seventh transcontinental American tour. Motion pictures, radio and nearly one hundred concerts are packed into a period of fifteen weeks. Having opened in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., on September 21, these famous Russians will travel more than 43,000 miles by train and bus to fill their many engagements. On completing their American tour, the Chorus will leave immediately for their first tour of the Orient and second tour of Australia.

Their appearance in Victoria is scheduled for Monday, November 2, at the Empire Theatre.

Newsreel Brings Police Parade to The Dominion

The annual police parade of the Toronto police force, looked upon as one of the events of the year in that city, is featured in The Dominion-Universal newsreel, commencing today at the Dominion Theatre. Other scenes of world-wide interest show the Duke of York as he inspects the boys' camp, of which he was the organizer and sponsor. News shots of the world series, the United States army in war games, a child prodigy from Venice, Cal., and the launching of the new 20,000-ton airplane carrier in Virginia are also shown.

Reception For Artist Is Enjoyed

Complimentary to Mr. Albert Creitz, violinist, his accompanist, Mr. Harry Van Dyke, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Smith, representing the National Institute of Music and Arts, who came here Wednesday in connection with Mr. Creitz' recital at the Empire Theatre, Mrs. Burdon-Murphy, and Mr. Brian Burdon-Murphy entertained with a delightful reception at their studio at the Columbia School of Music at 11 o'clock last night.

The rooms were beautiful with Autumn flowers in all the tawny shades, and refreshments were served as soon as the guests arrived.

Among those invited to meet the visiting artist and those of his party were: Mrs. Hebbert Gillespie, Miss Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. D. Benson, Mrs. Margery Benson, Mr. A. S. Averill, Mr. C. F. Boulter, Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Mrs. S. H. Holland, Miss Agnew, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Mayhew, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Warm, Mrs. Storey Waller, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. LAKE COWICHAN

A meeting of the Lake Cowichan P.T.A. was held recently. Mr. J. B. Bailey was elected president; Mr. C. H. R. Pillar, president; Mr. Gordon Clarke, librarian, and Mrs. S. Brown, membership committee. Delegates from the lake attended a meeting at Duncan on Tuesday evening to discuss the forming of a local council.

BURNSIDE

A Parent-Teacher Association was formed at a largely-attended meeting of parents at Burnside School on Wednesday night, when the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. W. Dalziel; vice-president, Mrs. T. Smith; secretary, John L. Hunter; executive, Principal John Dee, Dr. S. Richardson and Edward Merriman. At the next meeting, November 4, the constitution will be submitted.

Curate (admiring parishioners' bowl of bulbs): "How delightful to think it will soon be opening time, Mrs. Smith."

Mrs. Smith: "Well, who'd ever think you'd be saying a thing like that. But I'm game to pop out for a quick one if you feel like it."

DOMINOES AND CAPITALS MEET WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Navy and Bays Will Battle Tomorrow in Barnard Cup Fixture

Senior Rugby Fifteens to Clash on Upper Field at Macdonald Park—Oak Bay Wanderers and Fifth Brigade Play on Lower Pitch

Can the J.B.A.A. rugger turn back the Navy and make it two straight in their chase for the Barnard Cup, symbolic of the oval ball supremacy of the city? Followers of the game were asking this question yesterday as the sailors from Esquimalt prepared for their initial clash of the season tomorrow afternoon at Macdonald park.

Reported to be in the pink of condition after a number of hard workouts the sailors are ready for battle. They have welded together a well-balanced fifteen, and if enthusiasm counts for anything, the Bays are going to take their first setback tomorrow on the grass-carpeted enclosure in the James Bay district.

FINAL WORKOUT

The sailors went through their final paces yesterday on the Navy field at Admirals Road, and the fifteen which will carry the blue colors into battle in the initial fixture was announced last night by Lieutenant-Commander J. C. I. Edwards.

Both promising youngsters, will play fullback. "Snaky" Hall, veteran three-quarter, Sweet, Paul and Williams have been named for backfield berths with Hall and Williams on opposite wings. Arnot and Smith will be the halfbacks.

The pack will have an average weight of 180 pounds, and will comprise the following players: Corbin, Rutherford, McLean, Barker, Bennett, Benfield, Stubbs and Nelson. Changes are seen in the Bays line-up as they prepare for their engagement with the Navy. Ken Huxton, speedy young Garrison wing three-quarter, has been brought into the game to play on the right in place of Alce Gaunt. "Buz" Brown, halfback, has dropped back to the three-quarter line, and Halkett, former fifth brigade player, has been moved up to Brown's regular berth.

ason, prizes having been presented at the recent social of the joint clubs: McDonald Singles—1, Mrs. H. M. Wright; 2, Mrs. A. McKeachie. LARGE PAYS SENT OUT TO BALL STARS

Commissioner Landis Cuts Largest Melon in World Series History

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP).—Kennew Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, officially cut the largest world series melon in history today when he mailed out checks to the Yankees and Giants and players of the other first division clubs in each league.

Each ball share for the Yankees amounts to $6,430.55, while the "cut" for the Giants is $4,655.39, a new record for the beaten club's share. The Yankees split a total of $193,201.22 among thirty-six players, officials and club employees, while the Giants divided $128,800.24 among thirty-two individuals. Each club awarded twenty-seven full shares.

The total world series receipts of $1,304,399 including $100,000 from the radio rights, as well as the total players' pool of $460,602.66, set new records. The previous record receipts were $1,207,884 in 1926. The biggest players' pool previous had amounted to $419,736.60.

OTHERS BENEFIT

The remainder of the players' share, totaling $138,000.80, goes to the second, third and fourth place clubs in each league.

As undisputed winner of runner-up honors in the American League, the Detroit Tigers, 1936 world champions, draw $24,900.20. The St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs, who tied for second and third in the National League, each split $28,750.17.

The Chicago White Sox, third in the American circuit, get $23,000.13. The two fourth place clubs, Washington Senators and Pittsburgh Pirates, collect $11,500.07 each.

Perfect Co-ordination Is Demonstrated

SENIOR CAGE TEAMS CLASH IN OPENING TUSSLE NEXT WEEK

Fans Will Get First Glimpse of Respective Basketball Squads at High School Gymnasium—Two Preliminary Games to Be Arranged—Line-Up of Seniors Will Be Announced Later

Basketball's two senior "A" quintettes, the Dominos and the Capitals, which have been training hard the past month or more, will fire their opening shots in quest of the local championship next Wednesday evening at the Victoria High School Gymnasium. It was announced yesterday by officials of the Victoria and District Basketball League. For the first time in the history of the league, the two teams will meet during the season is not yet known. The league officials haven't taken any steps about bringing in outside squads yet and will get some idea of the respective strength of the two senior line-ups.

Great interest has been aroused in local basketball circles over the opening clash between these two clubs, which is a mighty good indication that the gymnasium will be packed to capacity next Wednesday when Referee Macedo sends the boys into action. Just how many times these teams will meet during the season is not yet known. The league officials haven't taken any steps about bringing in outside squads yet and will get some idea of the respective strength of the two senior line-ups.

The personnel of the Capitals was announced the other day by Charlie Morton, acting manager of the newly formed aggregation, but Manager Dave Nicol and members of the executive continue to keep the exact line-up of the Dominos a secret and will do so until some time next week. However, the Dominos continue to work out twice weekly under the watchful eye of their manager and according to reports a fairly strong squad will be built up around the two Chapmans, Art and Chuck, the only remaining players of last season's club, which worked its way to the Canadian final at Windsor.

PERSONNEL OF CAPS
Four of last year's Dominos are with the Capitals, who feel confident of turning the tables on their former mates in the initial fixture. Albert "Red" Martin, George "Porky" Andrews, Ollie Goldsmith and Alex McKeachie are the players who have switched uniforms this year. Ian McKeachie, Ralph Shepherd and a chap named McLean will also be out with the Capitals. There is also a possibility that Jack Mottishaw and Axel Kinnear will join the club later, but nothing definite has been learned about these players, both of whom played with the Dominos last season. Mottishaw is working at Duncan, while Kinnear is also employed Up-Island and therefore arrangements will have to be made to get them to the city each week to play ball.

Just how the Capitals will take the floor is still doubtful as far as the club is concerned, but Martin is expected to jump at centre against the rainy and clever Art Chapman, Andrews and McKeachie will most likely occupy the wing forward positions. Ollie Goldsmith and Ralph Shepherd is expected to open on the defence and the rest of the boys will be there ready for relief duties.

REMAINS SILENT
When questioned yesterday, Manager Nicol continued to remain silent as far as the Dominos are concerned. The boss of the Dominos is expected to break the prolonged silence next week at the earliest.

MAXIE BAER GOING HOME

Former Champion Will Give Up Hope of Regaining Heavyweight Crown

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP).—No more chin-pounding for Max Baer in his comeback campaign, until after the first of the year, and perhaps not even then. The impression prevails in the Californian never will attempt to regain the world's heavy-weight championship, which he lost to James J. Braddock a year ago. On the plea he was homesick to see his family after three months.

Max Baer, today were on their way back to California, headed for Hoffman's ranch near Fair Oaks. Behind them they left Trainer Izzie Kline to offer explanations.

"Max is homesick," Kline said, "so the tour was cut short."

TOUR ENDED SUDDENLY
Baer's tour ended suddenly in a fiasco in Toronto last Monday night. The tour, at least so far as exploitation for the former champion's comeback campaign was concerned, was no howling success. It was financially successful in spots but the former champion encountered a lot of rough spots.

Premier Hepburn of Ontario, referred to Baer's exhibition with a "Dutch" Weimer in Toronto as a "fake, fiasco had disgrace to the sport."

Baer himself had no comment to make on the Toronto bout, but Benny Ray, a member of the ex-champion's entourage, said the Toronto promoters wanted a $400 opponent for Baer "and that's what they got."

Annual School Children's Swimming Gala Carded This Evening

WITH over 250 budding young natators from twenty-four schools in Greater Victoria entered, the BRITISH school children's gala will be held this evening at the Crystal Garden commencing at 8 o'clock. Thirty-one relay squads have been entered for the trophy events, and post entries may even swell this number. Staged under the auspices of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, the event is one of the most popular of the winter season, and is expected to attract a bumper crowd. Results of the many events, and the progress of the competitors, will be made known to the spectators by means of a public address system. Charlie Hopper, veteran swimming announcer, will be at the microphone. The list of the schools and the number of competitors from each institution follows: Cloverdale (9), Quadra (8), North Ward (1), Oaklands (11), Margaret Jenkins (5), George Jay (6), Lamson Street (3), Boys' Central (4), Girls' Central (6), Wilkes (10), Monterey (11), St. James-Bouglas (7), Craighill (18), South Park (6), Normal Model School (1), Victoria West (18), Tolmie (4), McKenzie Avenue (5), Langford (1), St. Michael's (1), Mount View High (7), Mount Douglas High (1), Victoria High (8), and Oak Bay High (2). Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, is scheduled to present the prizes to the winners along with representatives of certain organizations who have donated special awards.

DERBY COUNTY FACES PORTSMOUTH IN MAIN MATCH

Leading Elevens Battle Tomorrow In English Loop

Deposed Leaders in First Division to Clash With Pace-Setters — Great Match Is Expected — Brentford Takes On Liverpool — St. Johnstone Tackles Aberdeen in Scottish

LONDON, Oct. 22 (AP).—Derby County, deposed as leaders in the English Football League last week, meets Portsmouth, the new pace-setters, in the feature match of Saturday's soccer programme. Portsmouth, with fifteen points, have a two-point margin over the County, who share second place with Brentford.

The match will be a battle of Titans and it is not unlikely Portsmouth will be forced to accept defeat. When Derby went under to Manchester City last Saturday by a 3-2 count it lacked the services of Barker, Keen and Crooks, who assisted England against Wales. With the return of these players the mid-landers will field their match-winning combination.

Brentford will also have the assistance of three internationals against Liverpool, also playing before a home crowd, may capture maximum points.

OPENING NEW STAND
For the formal opening of its $500,000 grandstand which is the last work in luxury, Arsenal will have Grimsby Town as an attraction. The players have built up a powerful squad and are now tied with three other clubs in fourth place. They will be at full strength with Glover leading the attack, and the Gunners will be strengthened by the inclusion of Bastin, their clever winger.

Second division play sees Bury, the leader, pitted against the strong Fulham club in London. Blackpool, runner-up, has a tough proposition against Southampton.
Luton Town is likely to retain its place at the top of the Southern Section Third Division, against Brighton, but Cardiff, in second place, may run into a snag against the peppy Watford outfit.

Chester, top-dog in the Northern Section, with a four-point margin over Lincoln City and Mansfield Town, visits Gateshead and should make short work of the door-mat of the division.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE
GLASGOW, Oct. 22 (AP).—The more optimistic supporters of the Scottish Football League's cellar occupant, Queen of South, are hoping for a change of fortune after a defeat Saturday, because they will be "picked on" by Glasgow Rangers.

In their thirteen starts to date the schedule has been a date with practically all the leading clubs of the circuit, and the decisions have gone against them. Of ten entries in the low column, six have been attributed to the Rangers.

After the Rangers' contest the club meets St. Johnstone and then has a few encounters with teams in the "last ten."
St. Johnstone will take the field this week-end against Aberdeen on the leader's grounds. Although in thirteenth position, Saints lowered Hearts' colors last Saturday, 3-0, and the shut-out has given them renewed confidence.

CELTIC FACES HIBS
In a second-place tie with Rangers, four points behind Aberdeen, Celtic should have no difficulty against Hibernians. The Hibs are far down in the championship table. Trailing the runners-up by one point, Motherwell performs away from home against Arbroath. Indications point to a Motherwell victory.

Is Drafted by the Leafs

Murray Armstrong, young centre player who was drafted by the Toronto Maple Leafs, last Spring, from the Philadelphia Ramblers of the then Canadian-American League. Armstrong, who is a Western Canadian lad, is a product of Lester Patrick's Winnipeg hockey school, and played amateur with the New York Rovers last year, and was signed by the Ramblers at the close of the season. He will go to Galt with the rest of the Leaf squad.

MALONEY AND INDIAN WILL BATTLE HERE

Rugged Bostonian to Oppose Chief Thunderbird in Mat Semi-Windup

Wrestling fans will have plenty of variety tomorrow evening at the Tillamook Gymnasium when Promoter Fred Richardson presents another all-star heavyweight mat programme. Heading the card will be Leo Numa Anderson, blond-thatched Seattle boy, who holds a victory over Sander Szabo and Donald McIntyre, poker-faced Scot, who has really been going places since his arrival on the Coast.

Anderson and McIntyre should give the fans a clever exhibition of fast, clean wrestling. In his initial appearance last week the former Glasgow boy worked well with Chief Thunderbird and never once uncorrupted his tactics. In his previous bouts here the Seattle grappler has thrilled the patrons with his brilliant performances and has become a great favorite.

CHIEF MEETS MALONEY
The semi-windup, which brings together Pat Maloney, rugged Bostonian, and Chief Thunderbird, will provide the fireworks. Maloney delights in handling out the rough tactics, and soon has the fans up in arms against him. The Indian is capable of taking plenty of punishment and has shown in his matches with Kitzmiller that he can rough things up with the best of them. The match is scheduled for five eight-minute rounds.

Ruddy Brenner, promising young Pacific Coast heavyweight, and Jack O'Brien, a newcomer to the local ring, will appear in the five six-minute-round special event.

A local preliminary will open the show at 8:45 o'clock.

CHING JOHNSON TO SUBSTITUTE
Veteran Defence Player of Rangers to Be Used in "Pinches" This Year

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22 (AP).—Ching Johnson, one of the "originals" of Lester Patrick's New York Rangers in the National Hockey League, is through as a regular defenceman with the Goddardites but will be used in the "pinches" this season if he accepts Patrick's terms. In announcing today that all regular Rangers players have signed contracts three weeks before the squad faces the 1936-37 barrier. Manager Patrick said he no longer considers Johnson a regular.

"It is a question whether or not Johnson will hang up his skates and call quits to hockey or accept Rangers' proposition to make him a lieutenant in the organization," Patrick said.

Johnson's contract would make him one of Patrick's right-hand men, in a similar capacity to that held by Bill Cook, veteran right-winger and another original Ranger. Johnson would be called for playing duty only in certain spots and would coach and direct defencemen, acting also in an advisory capacity.

Johnson was "very doubtful" if he would hang up his skates but tentatively rejected Patrick's offer.

RUGBY REFEREES MEETING TONIGHT
C. E. Ley, chairman of the Victoria Rugby Union referees' board, has called a meeting for tonight at 5 o'clock. In The Colonist board room. Anyone who would be willing to assist in refereeing games during the current season, is asked to attend.

LAWYER

"He is the patron saint of lawyers, though not, it is said, their model, for—so runs the biographical sketch of Saint Ives, "he was a Briton, an advocate and not a robber, whereas the people marvelled." In an impish, playful mood, Shakespeare wrote: "The first thing that I did was to kill all the lawyers." Not so good as most of the great

Jane Dixon Says:

HERE IS SOMETHING NEW — A PROSPECTIVE BRIDEGROOM WANTS HELP IN PERSUADING HIS FUTURE MOTHER-IN-LAW TO LIVE WITH HIM AND HIS BRIDE.

Here is something absolutely new!

A prospective bridegroom who is only a few steps away from the marriage altar, wants me to help him persuade his mother-in-law-to-be that she should come to live with him and his bride.

If I told you the number of letters I receive from engaged men asking me how to keep mother-in-law from living in the new home, you would think I was grossly exaggerating.

But when I tell you that this positively is my first case in history wherein the bridegroom insists on housing mother-in-law, and she declines, you will accept my statement, I'm sure, without question.

Dear Miss Dixon: I'm a young chap of twenty-five, engaged to a lovely girl of nineteen. We expect to be married very soon. My salary is $50 a week and the future looks very promising. My fiancée's mother is a young, attractive and very fine woman. Mother and daughter both have excellent positions. At the present time they are living with relatives, and everything is serene.

SHE IS AN ADMIRABLE WOMAN

However, both my fiancée and I feel her mother should live with us after our marriage.

This she refuses to do.

She contends she thinks too much of us to mar our happiness, that young people should have their home to themselves, at least the first few years of their marriage. She says the young folks are likely to try to show off before an elder, and say things to one another that they would not say were they alone.

There is nothing this mother would not do for us. Everyone loves her and is anxious to have her with them. As a wife, mother and friend, she has been and is as high; never crabs or interferes with our pleasure, but is always ready to add to it.

I don't think she will marry again, although she could very easily do so. Her heart seems to be in the grave with her husband. They were very happy, and he idolized her.

Don't you think she should live with us? We really want her.—M.S.

Answer: My dear M.S. you must have been born under a lucky star. You've found the right girl. You have a better than good position with a promising future.

MOTHER IS RIGHT

You are about to acquire a mother-in-law with an understanding mind and a heart filled with loving kindness. Knock wood. Cross your fingers. Always look at the new moon over your right shoulder. And never walk under ladders.

I hope you won't think I'm letting you down when I tell you that mother is right.

Of course, the two of you want her with you.

Who wouldn't spread the welcome mat for such a woman as you describe, especially when she is so near and dear?

But—there are times when the nearest and dearest of third persons are de trop—and the time, above all others, is the honeymoon time. She knows there must be a readjustment of your lives, of your personalities, and that this task will be accomplished with the minimum of clash if there is no third person to witness the operation.

Accept her verdict for the present, because it is a wise one.

Later, when the new home is established and you've settled down to the happy domesticity you and your right girl deserve, you may renew your invitations to have mother with you and you may even be insistent on her acceptance. Always remembering, of course, that it is her privilege to live her own life.

DOUBLE SERVICE IN WANT ADS

You can telephone your answers as well as your classified advertisements to The Colonist. Readers are often interested in Want Advertisements that do not carry the names or addresses of advertisers, but a Colonist box number for the accommodation of those readers who find it inconvenient to write an answer and to serve the advertiser better.

We Will Take Replies to Box Numbers Over the Telephone

The Colonist service is available from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., excepting Sundays. Phone 4114

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

EATING MEAT AND POTATOES TOGETHER

You are not hearing so much now about the diet in which meat should not be eaten with potatoes, based on the idea that starches—bread, potatoes, pastry—require an alkaline solution for digestion and that proteins—meat, eggs and fish—and acid fruits require a natural acid solution.

"The advocates of this diet," according to Dr. Clarence W. Lieb in Hygieia, "overlook the fact that present-day biochemists have shown that starch and sugar—both carbohydrates—can be digested in a neutral medium and that proteins are digested in both the acid stomach and the varying alkaline reactions of the small intestine. If physicians were asked to name the six leading or outstanding research workers in North America on food and digestion, in health and disease, there are three names which would be on practically every list—Dr. Martin Rehfuss, Philadelphia; Dr. E. V. McCollum, Baltimore; and Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Mayo Clinic. It was only natural, therefore, that in his article on "The Compatible Eating Plan," Dr. Lieb should quote these high authorities.

Dr. Rehfuss did research work on this point for eight years, among all people, and for over a year on "sick" people with diseases from angina pectoris to a slight head cold. He says, "There is no evidence in literature or in our investigations to lead us to believe that proteins and carbohydrates are incompatible (do not agree) in the stomach. A fact that has apparently been overlooked by those holding the carbohydrate-alkaline theory is that no carbohydrates are eaten that are not followed by a direct acid response on the part of the stomach. More than 400 chemical analyses of the digestive processes demonstrate more than words can express the absolute negligence of the statement that proteins and carbohydrates are incompatible in the stomach."

Dr. McCollum states, "There is no basis for eating proteins and carbohydrates separately as has often been lately acclaimed."

Dr. Alvarez states, "I often meet patients who have been trying to cure themselves by not eating proteins and starches together. It would seem as if only an ignorant person would take any stock in this theory because anyone who knows anything about metabolism and diet knows that when one eats meat alone, one is partaking of material half of which acts as a carbohydrate in the body."

Thus there is no reason why housewives and households should be upset trying to serve proteins and carbohydrates separately. On the other hand if eating carbohydrates and proteins separately seems to suit the ideas and even the stomach of any individual there is no reason why he shouldn't do it. It certainly can do no harm.
